

Responsible Care®: continuously improving health, safety and environmental performance

The Responsible Business of Chemistry

Responsible Care principles are a condition of CIA membership and we actively promote and manage them. Implementing these principles provides continuous improvement opportunities for chemical businesses in the UK by focusing on safety, health and environment best practice sharing. Through member commitment to Responsible Care programmes we aim to raise performance in our Sector, and help provide high levels of protection for employees, customers, the public, other stakeholders, and the environment.

Working for chemical and pharmaceutical businesses,
promoting strong Responsible Care principles

The Responsible Business of Chemistry

Responsible Care principles are a condition of CIA membership and we actively promote and manage them. Implementing these principles provides continuous improvement opportunities for chemical businesses in the UK by focusing on safety, health and environment best practice sharing. Through member commitment to Responsible Care programmes we aim to raise performance in our Sector, and help provide high levels of protection for employees, customers, the public, other stakeholders, and the environment.

Working for chemical and pharmaceutical businesses,
promoting strong Responsible Care principles